

1.4.1. Institution obtains feedback on the syllabus and its transaction at the institution from the following stakeholders: 1) Students 2) Teachers 3) Employers 4) Alumni

Following is the mechanism that was followed to collect and analyse the feedback on curriculum and its transactions:

- Questions were framed in google form by IQAC
- Each question was based on '1-4' linear scale; 1 being poor, 2 being average, 3 being good and 4 being very good
- The link of the google form was sent to the students through google classroom/email
- After submission by the students, the responses received was extracted as excel sheet
- The total number of responses was recorded. This number was multiplied by the maximum score (4) to get the highest score that can be obtained for any question.
Ex: say 100 responses were received. So  $100 \times 4 = 400$  is the maximum score for that question
- The total points obtained for any question (summation of all responses) was divided by the maximum number (400), to get the score (as a fraction) of that question.
Ex: 370 score was obtained (total of scores from 100 responses).
So,  $370/400 = 0.841$ .
- This score was then multiplied by 100 to get the percentage
 $0.841 \times 100 = 84.1\%$
The final score obtained for that question is 84.1%

Feedback on Curriculum and it's Transactions- B.Com
(Hons. and Genl. students)

Feedback on Curriculum and it's Transactions - BBA
Hons. students

Analysis:

- The responses received from the students of all programs on curriculum and its transactions were moderate (in the range of 75-91%) except for their views on the size of the syllabus in terms of load of syllabus. Due to pandemic and college closure, all classes were held online. The absence of physical classes could be one reason for the students to assume that the syllabus is huge.
- Good score (above 90) was obtained on alternative mode of teaching and question-answer discussion by teachers (in some of the departments).

2. Teachers' feedback on curriculum (shown as percentage)

The curriculum is as per the need of the students	77.8
The curriculum is balanced with regard to the theoretical and practical knowledge wherever applicable	78.3
